In Sharkey county, Miss., O. W. Thayer and Wicks Shannon had a dispute. Shannon cut Thayer's throat with a razor, killing him instantly.

NINETY-THREE persons have been killed in the State of Sonora since the outbreak of the Apaches, of which twenty-seven were Americans.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR, Secretary Chandler and party are now fishing in Reedy Creek and Lake Patuxia, thirty miles south of Kissimmee City, Florida.

EIGHT men fell a distance of 1,000 to 2,000 feet with the machinery and boilers of the Nellridge mine, at Norway, Mich., all of whom were killed.

GEORGE BARNES, Paddy Ryan's giant, has gone back to Omaha for good, from Chicago, having come to the conclusion that he is unsuited for the fight arena.

AUGUST HARTLETT, a farmer of Lockport, N. Y., was thrown from his wagon by his team suddenly starting, and his neck was broken, though he was not killed.

JAMES FLANNERY, a bridegroom of only two days, living at Harmat, Ohio, had been drinking heavily and shot himself in the bowels. He is not expected to live.

The saloon keepers of St. Louis are taking steps to contest the high license dramshop law passed by the Missouri Legislature, which will go into effect in July.

The telegraph announces the death of Miss Lillie C. Darst, the well-known Ohio journalist, at Chicago, where she had gone some weeks ago for medical treatment.

JOHN J. JENNINGS, a reporter on the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, entered a cage of lions belonging to Cole's circus, and was fatally injured by the furious beasts.

EX-SENATOR DAVID DAVIS will this summer erect an opera-house in Bloomington, Ill., which for magnificence, it is said, will surpass anything of the kind in the State.

MARGARET VINEGAR, a colored prostitute of Lawrence, Kansas, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree, for complicity in killing David Bourman last June.

SECRETARY FOLGER, it is said, will soon appoint a commission to examine the charges against Supervising Architect Hill, which were placed in his hands just before he was prostrated by his recent illness.

The death of Thomas Blythe, a California millionaire, has brought to the surface the fact that during life he had formed many liaisons with the gentle sex, all of whom now want a slice of his wealth.

B. F. SPENCER, of Hyde county, N. C., heard dogs after his sheep the other night, and took his gun and went out. Next morning he was found lying dead near the house, his undischarged gun lying near. The manner of his death is a mystery.

At Jacksonville, Oreg., J. L. McMahon was shot dead by his son William. One woman was the mistress of both. The son discovered his father's intimacy, a quarrel followed, and the father was beating the son with a club when the latter killed him.

EXPRESS MESSENGER AARON T. ROSS, who stood off the train robbers at Montello, on the Central Pacific, has received from John J. Valentine, Wells & Fargo's superintendent for the coast, a check for $1,000 and a massive gold watch, presumed to have cost about $500.

Murdered While Defending His Property.

RALEIGH, N. C., April 12.—Last night, hearing dogs after his sheep, Mr. B. F. Spencer, of Hyde County, stepped out of his house with a gun into the yard. The family saw no more of him until this morning, when he was found near the house lying dead, with his gun cocked, but not discharged. He was a prominent citizen, and the case is involved in much mystery.

INTO THE LIONS' DEN.

Horrible Result of a St. Louis Reporter's Venture.

Tempted by the Success of a Lion Tamer, He Enters the Cage to be Torn to Pieces by the Fierocious Beasts.

St. Louis, April 12.—The fair grounds was yesterday the scene of an unusually distressing and peculiar accident. John J. Jennings, a reporter on the Post-Dispatch, was sent by his city editor to write a lengthy notice about the winter quarters of W. W. Cole's circus, which are at the grounds, and in the course of an interview with George Conkling, the lion tamer, Jennings ventured the assertion that there was no danger attaching to Mr. Conkling's apparently thrilling appearance in the midst of the caged lions.

In substantiating his assertion he declared his willingness to go into the den, providing Mr. Conkling made the first entrance. At first the lion tamer laughed at Jennings' proposition, but the reporter bantered him so much about it that he at last agreed to let him go into the cage. Jennings is the same rash little gentleman who allowed Herrman, the magician, to fire him out of a cannon across the auditorium of the Grand Opera-house into a net three years ago. The cannon trick was done during a performance, and the animal had a very narrow escape from breaking his neck. Yesterday, Conkling, who had been handling lions since 1863, and who has two new lions in the den, made his first entrance, whipped the animals up, and after putting them through their paces, came out. He told Jennings that there was danger with the two new lions, and tried to dissuade him from going in, but the reporter was rashly stubborn about the thing, and armed with Conkling's small rawhide, went boldly into the den. Conkling stood at the cage doors and watched the animals closely, ready, at a moment, to run in to the newspaper man's assistance. The lions lay close to the sides of the cage as Jennings stood at the center, and divided their attention between the reporter and Conkling. They growled fiercely, and glared at the intruder, but Jennings shook the rawhide toward them, and at last touched Sandy, one of the old lions, on the rump, whereat he ran across the stage, followed by two of the others, and soon the three animals were jumping about obeying the reporter's word of command, leaping over the whip and lying down as cleverly as they could do for Conkling himself. The lion tamer said nothing, but had his hand in the cage door, watching Jennings and the animals as they shifted positions. The reporter had been in the cage probably two minutes, when he started to put "George," the second of the old lions, through the trick of jumping over his back while he leaned forward. He touched the animal's forepaws with the whip just as Conkling does, and over the reporter's back went old "George." One of the new lions just put into the cage this winter, in attempting to follow George, knocked Jennings down. He fell toward a corner of the stage, in which the second new lion that had refused to take part in the amateur lion tamer's performance had remained lying throughout the whole time. "Look out!" shouted Conkling, dashing into the cage and making a dive for the prostrate newspaper man. He was too late, however. The lion's claws fell on the top of Jennings' head, and tore away almost the entire scalp. A second stroke tore the reporter's shoulder open, and, as Conkling dragged him away, the lion's claws were fastened in the shoe of his left foot, and tore the covering off. Conkling had the palm of his right hand opened by one of the animal's claws. There was the greatest uproar in the cage for a few minutes, the lions roaring and rushing about while Conkling thrust Jennings through the cage door to two assistants, and remained behind to belabor the animals into quiet with a short bar of iron. Jennings was taken from the ground unconscious, and the physicians fear that he is fatally injured. Great indignation prevails among the journalist's friends who heard of the accident, and there is talk of having Conkling arrested, first, for having allowed Jennings to expose himself to such danger, and in the second place for not telling Jennings that the lion that injured him was bad, and is always kept chained in a corner of the cage. This latter circumstance is a fact, Conkling himself never ventures within reach of this lion. He is, therefore, to blame for allowing Jennings to risk his life in the rash manner in which he did.

The Newhall House Fire.
MILWAUKEE, April 12.—At the trial of George Scheller yesterday District Attorney Clark addressed the jury in a lengthy speech, his remarks occupying several hours. He was followed by the defense, and after the case was outlined by the attorneys, the taking of testimony began. The jury is a very intelligent looking body of men. The first witness called was C. D. Nash, president of the Newhall House Company, who testified at great length in reference to the plans and safety of the Hotel.

Distressing Condition of Affairs in Scotland—Terrible Catastrophe in Paris—One Thousand Buildings Burned in Mandalay—Precautions in Russia.
PARIS, April 12.—The papers this morning report a terrible catastrophe in the Theater at Revel, caused by an explosion of gas. A performance was in progress at the time, and the theater was crowded. Many are said to have been killed in the panic which ensued.

Trial of the Phoenix Park Murderers.
DUBLIN, April 12.—The trial of Joe Brady, charged with murdering Lord Frederick Cavendish and Burke, was resumed this morning.

James Carey was again placed on the witness stand and cross-examined by counsel for the defense, who elicited the information that when plotting the murders with the other accused men he was a member of a sodality which received sacrament at stated periods.

Carey also said he was promised a pardon before he determined to give his evidence against his fellow conspirators.

A photograph was handed Carey, which witness immediately identified as that of the man known as "Number One."

Michael Kavanagh was placed on the stand and repeated the evidence he gave at the preliminary examination in Kilmmainham Court-house. His testimony showed that it was Brady who directed him where to drive and who designated the place for him to wait.

Malicious Accusations—Disposed of Cases in the Irish Courts.
DUBLIN, April 12.—The belief is entertained here that many of the arrests made daily are due solely to personal malice, the suspected persons being denounced to the police by those having private grudges to revenge, who take advantage of the present excited state of public feeling to wreak their vengeance.

The Freeman's Journal states that there is a block of 60,000 undisposed of cases in the Irish courts under the Land Act, and applications are still coming in from tenants at the rate of 1,400 per month. Only 3,400 cases can be dealt with, so it will be two years and a half yet before the block is worked off. This means ruin to the tenant, to be followed by crime, disturbances and disorder. The Freeman advises the Government to avert this by doubling the seventeen Sub-Commissioners at work under the act.

Precautions Measures for the Coronation.
VIENNA, April 12.—Private letters from Moscow state the most elaborate precautions have been taken to frustrate the plans of the Nihilists. The Russian authorities have hired a large number of houses in Moscow as quarters for the Russian guards, who are to be sent to strengthen the garrison during the coronation festivities. For strategic reasons, several groups of contiguous houses have been taken in the various parts of Moscow, and a series of important points will thus be occupied, which will completely command the city.

Starvation in Scotland.
EDINBURGH, April 12.—Great distress prevails among the inhabitants of the western isles and the highlands of Scotland, many families being on the verge of starvation. In the Island of Skye there is hardly a crofter who has either corn or potatoes. The poor people had their corn destroyed by the great October gales, and had consequently no seed for the spring. This winter, too, has been so stormy that the people have not been able to pursue the lobster fishery, and the potato disease following, a bad herring fishery has completed the famine.

Terrific Fire in Mandalay, Burmah.
LONDON, April 12.—Mandalay, the capital of Burmah, has been partially destroyed by fire. The population of the city is about 100,000, and it contained many magnificent palaces, pagodas and convents.

Rangoon, April 12.—One thousand buildings were destroyed by fire yesterday in Mandalay, the Capital of Burmah. The residences of several Cabinet Ministers were among the burned buildings. Ten prisoners confined in the city jail, who were unable to effect their escape, were burned to death in their cells.

Paralyzed.

LOCKPORT, Ky., April 12.—This morning August Hartlett, a well-known and respected farmer of this county, was thrown backward from his wagon, in which he was coming to Lockport, by the sudden starting of the team. His neck was broken by the fall and his whole body is now paralyzed.

Vignaux Going to New York.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Maurice Vignaux, the distinguished billiard expert, left last night for New York, accompanied by his wife. Unable to complete arrangements with Mr. Schaefer and others, he has been compelled to abandon the proposed exhibition games at Cincinnati, St. Louis and Milwaukee.

OBSCENE LITERATURE.

Trial of Heywood, at Boston, for Selling "Cupid's Yokes."

Judge Nelson Decides That Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass" Are Not Obscene—The "Yokes" Escape Through an Imperfect Indictment.

Boston, Mass., April 12.—Ezra H. Heywood is on trial in the District Court, before Judge Nelson, for circulating through the mails alleged obscene literature, to-wit: a pamphlet entitled "Cupid's Yokes," and a slip containing the two passages from Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass," which District Attorney Stevens specified as objectionable at the time of his attempt to stop the sale of the book in this city. Anthony Comstock, the instigator of the prosecution, testified that he received the articles mentioned in response to decoy letters written by him under the name of J. A. Matthews. When the slip containing Whitman's poems was offered by the Government, the defendant objected on the grounds that it was not set forth in the indictment, which stated that the document was of such a nature that it would be improper to put it on the record of the court. Judge Nelson read Whitman's poems carefully through, and then said that he could see nothing in it which would contaminate the record. After considerable discussion, in which the defendant read a letter from Ralph Waldo Emerson and extracts from the writings of eminent clergymen, eulogizing Whitman's works, Judge Nelson announced that he should order a verdict of "not guilty," so far as the poems of Whitman were concerned. "Cupid's Yokes," which was omitted from the indictment for the same reason, was next offered in evidence, and the defendant again raised objections. Although the Government wished to put the whole book in, the court compelled it to specify the passages relied on. After Mr. Almy had read these, Judge Nelson ruled as in the previous instance, saying that the court was sufficiently robust to stand anything that had been read, and that there was no excuse for the drawing of an indictment in so loose and imperfect a manner. The case is watched with the greatest interest, and Comstock's defeat with regard to Whitman's book was loudly applauded.

A FUNNY CASE.
A Married Man Marries Two Sisters in Order to Come into Possession of Their Property.

CHICAGO, April 12.—John J. Roser, who was a practicing lawyer here for some time, has got himself into trouble at Dexter, Mich., by marrying two sisters within six months of each other because he wished to get hold of 320 acres of land and $2,700 in cash, which they possessed between them. After the second marriage, the first sister, who became his supposed wife, had him arrested for bigamy, and then it transpired that neither of the two could claim him, he having previously entered into the bonds of matrimony with a lady in Chicago, who is still living here. The three women have determined to pool their grievances and prosecute Roser.

Knights of Honor.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 12.—The Grand Lodge of Knights of Honor elected the following officers: J. B. Ewan, Covington, Grand Dictator; W. H. Yost, Jr., Greenville, Grand Vice Dictator; J. A. Demaree, Louisville, Grand Reporter; Dennis, Louisville, Grand Treasurer; Rer. A. J. Hess, Columbus, Grand Chaplain; William Hall, Maysfield, Grand Guide; J. T. Carpenter, Fisherville, Grand Guardian; E. G. Boone, Paducah, Grand Sentinel; S. M. Bernard, Louisville, Grand Trustee; J. H. Hancock, Louisville, Grand Trustee; H. E. Thompson, Paducah, Grand Trustee; John T. Milburn, Louisville, A. G. Caruth, Louisville, and J. C. Wickliffe, Bardstown, Supreme Representatives. To-day the following officers were elected: George W. Check, Louisville, Lewis C. Garrigus, Russellville, W. B. Fleming, Louisville, Alternate Supreme Representatives; Dr. H. C. Miller, of Louisville, State Medical Examiner.

The Chicago Painters' Union Wins.
CHICAGO, April 12.—An exciting meeting of the painters' union was held last night, 300 being present. Thirty new members were added to the rolls, swelling the aggregate membership to 800. Reports were received from all sections of the city, showing the demand of the union for an advance from $2.50 to $3 per day had been complied with by the bosses, and that all members of the union were receiving the $3 rate. This is a decided victory for the union, and renders a general strike unnecessary.

Kill Themselves to Get Away.
CHICAGO, April 12.—Benedict Schlaichter committed suicide to-day by jumping into the lake from the North Pier. He left an affectionate farewell note for his wife. Temporary insanity was the cause. This is the fourteenth suicide within six weeks.

Chicago Bricklayers and Cigarmakers.
CHICAGO, April 12.—The striking bricklayers are still out. The bricklayers' Union sent out committees to meet and explain the situation to all strangers coming into town, and to put them to work if necessary, members of the union making room for them by quitting work and giving the strangers their places. Some twenty men have been provided for in this way, preventing the master masons from getting their labor. In some instances the outside parties determine to return to their homes, and they are provided with a pass for that purpose.

The cigarmakers are awaiting the result of the New York strike before urging their claim for higher wages. Some of the larger manufacturers have received word that on May 7 their hands will expect an increase of $1 per 1,000, but as a rule the New York trade will govern the matter.

A Woman Convicted of Murder.
LAWRENCE, KAN., April 12.—Margaret, or "Sis" Vinegar (colored), was to-day convicted of murder in the first degree, for complicity in killing David Bourman in June last. "Sis" had enticed Bourman to a lonely spot on the bank of the river, where he was set upon by two colored accomplices, Isaac King and Geo. Robertson, and beaten and cut in the head with clubs and hatchets until dead, when he was robbed and his body thrown into the river. King and Robertson were confined in the jail, from which they and Pete Vinegar, father of "Sis," were taken by an armed mob and hung from a bridge ten days after the murder.

THE HONORED DEAD.

A Monument to Thomas Jefferson—The Home of Madison.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The monument for the grave of Thomas Jefferson is being put in place at Monticello this week. It is a plain granite shaft eighteen feet high and is to cost $10,000, including the work of putting in position and protecting it from the class of vandals who, in the guise of relic hunters, disfigured the one which preceded it. The shaft weighs nine tons, and is of the most durable stone known to this section of country. The manner in which the former monument was defaced and ruined by relic hunters was a disgrace, and there will be an effort to protect this one as far as may be from like treatment.

Simultaneously with this event it is announced that Montpelier, Va., the home of President Madison, has been purchased by Mr. Louis F. Detrick, of Baltimore, for a summer residence. The old mansion is one of old Virginia's best, a large three-story brick, rough coated, 40x158 feet, and surrounded by over a thousand acres of land belonging to the estate. It is a typical Southern mansion, with broad verandas, broad, airy halls, and comfortable surroundings. The remains of President Madison lie near the homestead, the spot marked by a marble shaft fifteen feet high.

INCITING A RIOT.

Mme. Mincke Advises the Striking Laborers of Marseilles to Resort to Violence.

PARIS, April 12.—A dispatch from Marseilles states that the strike of the dock laborers, 7,000 of whom have quit work, has occasioned serious alarm, especially among the bourgeois class. A large body of men paraded the streets last evening, and were afterwards addressed by Madame Paul Mincke, who advocated the most violent measures, declaring that the troubles of the workingmen were caused solely by the imbecility of the so-called Republican Government, which aims to secure the support of the rich by ignoring the demands of the poor. Her remarks were enthusiastically received. Mounted gendarmes are patrolling the streets frequented by the workingmen, and the troops of the garrison are held in readiness for immediate action in case of the occurrence of an emeute.

Another Petroleum Boom.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 12.—Excitement was high yesterday among the oil speculators. The price of petroleum advanced almost seven cents, and big profits were realized by many of the holders. The lobbies of the various exchanges took an active hand, as they always do in a boom, and the result was an increased volume of business, about 3,499,000 barrels changing hands in Pittsburg and Allegheny. The bulls had the market all their own way. The general situation in the fields was decidedly bullish, production still declining. The market opened at 90c and advanced to 96c, closing at 96 1/2c. A well known frequenter of the Pittsburg exchange has made $30,000 in the past two months. Some nice deals were made by shrewd operators in the past few days, notably by R. W. Vandegritt, who bought 200,000 barrels of oil from 88 1/2 to 90c, and closed out the bulk of his block on the top of the market.

LEXINGTON claims to have a population of over 25,000. The census report of 1880 gives less than 17,000.

The Russell License Bill has passed the Ohio Senate by a strict party vote, the Republicans favoring it and the Democrats opposing it. An unimportant amendment was made in the Senate in which the House is expected to concur. The measure takes effect from its passage.

The strike by the cigar makers of Cincinnati does not promise to be of long duration. A number of the lesser manufacturers have agreed to the terms proposed and others, it is said, are only waiting for a definite proposition from the strikers concerning the division of the amount asked for.

Miss Lily C. Darst, the well known Ohio lady journalist, died at Chicago on the 12th inst. At the time of her death she was in control of the Circleville Herald, and conducted it with ability. She was also Engrossing Clerk of the Ohio Senate, and was a great favorite in official circles. Her death was caused by nervous prostration.

Illiteracy in Kentucky.

The Covington Commonwealth says: It is not true that one-fourth of Kentucky's population can not write. The population of Kentucky is 1,648,599; the number that can not write 558,166—less than one-sixth of the entire population. Even this is deplorable. Is there no redeeming feature? Does Kentucky head the list of illiterate States? Let us see. Census Bulletin No. 303 furnishes the following facts:

States.	10 yrs of age and over who can not read.
Alabama.....	436,683
North Carolina.....	379,279
Virginia.....	376,935
Mississippi.....	369,495
Louisiana.....	357,312
Tennessee.....	354,325
Kentucky.....	258,166
New York.....	166,685
Pennsylvania.....	145,158
Ohio.....	86,754
Massachusetts.....	65,636

The large number of negroes in the Southern States accounts in a good degree for the high rate of illiteracy in those States.

New York, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts have comparatively few colored people. In Massachusetts there are only 15,416 of 10 years of age and upward, while in Kentucky there are 190,223, and the per cent of these that can not write is 70.4. The reader will at once see how enormously this swells the aggregate illiteracy of Kentucky. In view of the recent emancipation of the blacks we do not think the State is censurable for their illiteracy. It will take a generation to overcome the effect of the slave law prohibiting the education of the blacks.

But look at Massachusetts. "There she stands," as her most distinguished Senator said on a memorable occasion—held up as a model State in educational matters, with a small negro population, a compulsory law, heavy school taxes, costly school-houses, and well-paid teachers, and yet she returns (in round numbers) 76,000 persons above ten years of age who can not read, and 93,000 who can not write.

But let us go ahead in promoting common school education in Kentucky.

BASE BALL.

The Opening Game Between the St. Louis and Cincinnati.

St. Louis, April 12.—The Chronicle says: "As it is conceded on all sides that the St. Louis and Cincinnati teams of this year are very evenly matched, much interest is felt in their opening contest, which takes place at Cincinnati during the first week in May. Many queries have been made as to who is to umpire these games, and as to whether St. Louis is to have a square deal in this direction. In reply to these questions, it may be stated that W. H. Becannon, of New York, has been selected to perform this onerous task. He is an old ball player, and as an umpire he has acquired an enviable reputation for honesty and impartiality. As he hails from the far East, his feelings, if he has any, must be neutral, and will have no bearing on his decisions."

Georgia Democratic State Convention.

ATLANTA, April 12.—In the Democratic State Convention yesterday twelve ballots were taken for a candidate for Governor without result. The first ballot stood: Boynton 144, Bacon 144, McDaniel 85, Cook 19, Simmons 4. The last, or the seventeenth since the convention opened, stood: Bacon 155, Boynton 148, McDaniel 31, Cook 15. Every side presents an almost solid front, and the result can not be predicted.

Peter Cooper's Will.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The will of Peter Cooper has been filed in the Surrogate's office. The estate amounts to about $2,000,000. About $200,000 will be required to meet the special bequests. One hundred thousand dollars is given to the Cooper Institute. The remainder goes to his relatives.

Ohio Appointments.

COLUMBUS, O., April 12.—Governor Foster to-day nominated Henry A. Luskey, of Hamilton County, to be Commissioner of Statistics of Labor for two years from April 12, and Samuel A. Baxter, of Allen County, and George W. Boerseler, of Fairfield County, to be Trustees of the Dayton Insane Asylum for the term of five years from April 15.

ABERDEEN ITEMS.

No doubt a certain blonde was astonished, when he saw it, that a young town belle had captivated instead of a dashing belle of Georgetown. We must make some allowance for the wear and tear of a compositor's brain.

Sunday afternoon Maysville's most prominent apollo's were represented in full force in Aberdeen. No doubt the lingering rays of the sun was sufficient inducement.

Last Saturday evening four gentlemen, the creme de la creme of Maysville, tripped it off with a light elastic step—in the direction of Miss Moore's. On their return, the chorus of voices heard "Oh in the still night" was proof of the pleasant evening they had spent.

Some young ladies who were recently discussing the subject, who were the handsomest gentlemen of Aberdeen. A criterion in regards to masculine beauty gave the premium to Dr. Guthrie, Mr. Tyne Fulton, Mr. S. True.

What is more mortifying to woman's vanity than having her picture taken, that bewitching smile which she thought would cause hearts to flutter—has given her a frightful idiotic expression—ah, her wounded vanity.

A loud and boisterous laugh, should be avoided by all means especially when on the street. It attracts attention, and causes unfavorable comment.

Wouldn't some of the Maysville belles, open their eyes in astonishment, could they have seen their sweethearts engaged in the exciting game of base ball, Sunday afternoon on the Aberdeen pike. It was only the approach of a Rev. Divine, that reminded them it was Sunday.

Last Saturday night at 12 o'clock the Aberdeen orchestra, composed of the best musical talent of the town were out serenading and some of the bright and sparkling pieces were simply ravishing.

Sunday being such a beautiful warm day Simmons mediated well water was well tested for its virtues.

Madam rumor says Mrs. Robt. Brookover's musical entertainment, was the rechever of the season. Mrs. B. dispenses the graces as a hostess in a most winning manner.

We have heard a great many express their regrets at Mr. T. F. Hill's retiring from the grocery business, his accommodating manner won him many friends. C. H. C.

Says the New York Sun: The Democrats can secure the next President only by carrying some of the States that voted for Garfield. The tidal wave of last fall gave them six or eight such. They must manage their party so as to hold enough to meet the emergencies of the campaign of 1884. On the conduct of the majority in the next House of Representatives will depend whether the Democrats shall go into the next Presidential contest strong and united.

PERSONALS.

Mr. Charles Hubbard, of Illinois, is visiting his parents in this city.

Miss Mary Jolly, of Ripley, is the guest of Miss Mary Broscoe.

Mrs. Kate Taylor, of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Ella Cochran, of Covington, who have been the guests of Mrs. S. B. Poyntz will return home to-day.

Fashion Notes.

New York Herald.

In London short hair is going out of fashion.

The dude is a narrow gauge swell. Fashionable colors are electro-blue and shades of terra-cotta and brown-red.

Parasol handles have a serpentine crook. The ribbon near the handles is of the same shade as the cover.

Enormous hats overloaded with feathers or flowers, are much affected by Russian and American ladies in Europe.

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

FRIDAY EVE., APRIL 13, 1883.

THE boys who all the smokers roll,
Their calling will be plying.
Because the Union's colors now
Triumphantly are flying.
The bosses very wisely cease
To worry and to fret,
And like good boys, their minds are fixed
To come in from the wet.

The Cigar-Makers' Union held a meeting to-day.

The Cigar Strike.

The following manufacturers of cigars in this city and Aberdeen have agreed to pay the advance of one dollar a thousand on all cigars, asked by the operatives of the two places: Wm. Hunt; Childs, Robinson & Co.; A. Hauke & Co.; Smith & Co.; and Gilbert & Hawk, of Aberdeen. Messrs. Sulser, Petry & Co. have not yet signed the agreement.

The Story of Hazel Kirke.

Dunstan Kirke, an old miller, has promised his daughter Hazel's hand to Squire Rodney, who has loaned him money, and educated the daughter. The latter loves Arthur Cringford, a young English lord whom her father has saved from drowning. Rodney finds this out, and generously gives her up, but the stern old man will not allow the sacrifice, but accuses her of unfaithfulness, and drives her out. She marries Arthur, but upon being informed that her marriage was illegal, leaves him in her indignation at his treachery. She wanders back to the old mill and finds her father has become blind, and is about to lose his home. Rodney still loves her, and asks her hand. She consents, but the old man is still unforgiving. Hazel tries to drown herself, and her father, hearing her cries but being unable to assist her, loses his reason. Arthur finally appears with proofs of the legality of their marriage, and the old man's wandering mind returns upon hearing Hazel sing an old song of her childhood.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Testimony for the Defense in the Cooper-Insko Murder Case.

In the Circuit Court, Wednesday, Ben. D. Parry, clerk, presented an account of his indebtedness to the Commonwealth for taxes on law process, the net amount of which was $39.90; examined and approved by the court.

W. W. Ball, County Clerk, presented an account of his indebtedness, to the Commonwealth for taxes on deeds, mortgages, law process, &c. the net amount of which was $599.45; examined and approved by the court.

The following persons were sworn as grand jurors, viz:

Walter S. Calvert, foreman;
Jacob Thomas, Thomas Forman,
Frank Kennan, Madison Worthington,
John G. Bacon, Joseph Kirk,
C. Shultz, Lead; Joseph Doyle,
James H. Hall, Jr., James C. Owens,
Sylvester Thompson, William Hill,
Joseph Wallingford, Thomas Luttrell,
Dr. John Frazee.

The following testimony for the defense was introduced in the Cooper-Insko case:

Charles Jones: Was at the fair Friday and Saturday all day. Knew Cooper by sight. Saw him Friday and some lady was with him. I was sitting on East side of promenade. Cooper and wife came along. Insko and a lady came after. The lady was trying to get him to go back the other way. He jerked loose, went up to Cooper, put his hand on his shoulder and said: "I'll blow your brains out. I can do it and will do it." He had his hand on his pocket. I was sitting on the seats near where the shooting took place and heard the first shot. Had a child in my arms and raised up as the second shot was fired and saw Insko. Didn't see who was shot. Didn't see either party.

Cross Examined: Am not very well acquainted with Cooper. Knew Gregson (Mrs. Cooper's father) slightly. When I saw Cooper and Insko quarrel the day before they were eight or ten steps from me and three or four feet apart I told one of the policemen about it.

Julian Pollock: Knew George Cooper and wife. Don't know Insko and Miss Mingua. Was at the fair. Saw a quarrel on the promenade next to the pike. I was sitting on the banisters and think it was Thursday or Friday forenoon. Cooper and Insko came along with a man and woman behind. The latter were talking and seemed to be talking to Cooper. He jerked loose; went forward and touched Cooper on the shoulder and said: "If you want anything you can get it." Cooper's wife said: "Mr. Insko if you are a gentleman you'll let George alone." Cooper said: "I'll see you later." Saw Insko after he was killed. Think he was the same man whom I saw. I think it was Thursday. Miss Mingua tried to stop him. Cooper was talking back.

J. T. Wilson: I am eighteen years old and live in Bracken county. Was at the fair Saturday. Didn't know Cooper. Saw his wife. Never saw Insko and Miss Mingua, and never saw any trouble between them.

David Gregson: I am the father of Mrs. Cooper. Have known Mr. Cooper ever since he was born. He was married last September. Was at the fair on Friday. My wife and boy were with me. Didn't see Cooper and wife and just before lunch looked for them. They were in the gallery beyond where we were eating and by their side and sat down by Cooper and asked what he meant by what he said on the promenade. Cooper answered: "I meant what I said." Cooper's wife said: "Mr. Insko, will you please go away and leave him alone and repeat this Insko said: 'I'll see you again.' After the fair I went to Campbell county and stayed two weeks. Saw Insko first in the gallery. Went down and sent them up and afterward went up myself. I sat down in front of them. This young man came, sat down by Cooper and asked him what he meant by what he said down on the promenade. Cooper said: 'I meant what I said I reckon.' Insko says: 'You are a d—n s—n of a b—h.' Cooper's wife said: 'will you please go away and leave him alone.' I tried to get Insko to leave or compromise. He said: 'I can do what I want for him and his post.' I tried to get a pistol from Mr. Hiles. Cooper had told me to ask Hiles if he had a pistol. I told him that Cooper had had trouble and anticipated more trouble—he had had some trouble on the fair ground the other day and wanted to go that day and anticipated more trouble.

Alfred Gregson: Knew Insko. Am a brother of Cooper's wife and 16 years old. Was at the fair. Saw Insko Friday and Saturday and spoke to him. Had been in his company Friday night before the fair. Had a pistol that time. I never saw the trouble. Heard pistol shot on my way to the steps. Had seen Insko a short time before. He had called me and asked: "What the d—n s—n of a b—h of a brother-in-law of mine meant by what he said yesterday?" I said I didn't know about the trouble. Told him to leave Cooper alone. He said: "I intend to a k him"—that "This was Cooper's last evening or day."

Albert Grant, colored: Live near Washington. Was at the fair on Saturday. Saw Cooper and Insko. Had trouble with me at the booth. Didn't know the man. Saw the man killed. Had on light clothes. Soon as he ran his hand into his pocket I ran too.

Asbury Jones: Live in Bracken county. Was an officer at the fair. I knew Cooper and Insko. Saw him on the promenade Saturday. Started to look for him. Had seen him fifteen minutes before the shooting and two girls were with him. Had seen him a short time before with some others sitting on the banisters.

Hazel Kirke.

On Wednesday evening next, the 18th inst., the Opera House will undoubtedly be crowded to its utmost capacity by witnesses in attendance on the presentation of perhaps the greatest play of modern times, "Hazel Kirke," the same to be produced by a company with the same scenery and properties that brought it celebrity at the famous Madison Square Theatre in New York. The extraordinary piece has attained the still more extraordinary "age" of over two thousand consecutive performances, and public interest in the play does not show the least sign of abatement. The reserved seat chart at Taylor's news depot is rapidly filling up, which shows that amusement seekers are wisely taking time by the forelock in securing seats so promptly.

TRAGEDY AT MINERVA.

Wm. Bradbury Murders Ephraim Dragoo, His Brother-in-Law.

Escape of the Murderer a few Hours After His Arrest.

Wm. Bradbury and Ephraim Dragoo were farmers and lived on the road that leads to the Dover and Maysville turnpike, about two miles from the village of Minerva. Bradbury married a sister of Dragoo, but through some family difference had become estranged from his wife and was not on amicable terms with other members of her family. Tuesday afternoon about one o'clock he went to the house of Dragoo and had some words with him, and during the conversation, it is alleged, Dragoo reproached him concerning the trouble with his wife. Bradbury incensed at this drew his pistol, a thirty-two calibre weapon, and exclaimed as he fired, "G—d d—n you what have you got to do with it?" The ball took effect in Dragoo's temple, killing him instantly. Bradbury immediately after the occurrence was arrested by Constable James Runyon, of Minerva, and was kept in custody until two o'clock this morning, when under the pretence of attending to a call of nature, he succeeded in eluding the officer and made his escape. Both the participants in this unfortunate affair stand well in the community where they lived and were regarded as quiet and good citizens.

People with gray hair prefer to use the Renewer, rather than proclaim to the world through their bleached locks that they are becoming aged, and passing on to decay.

By lack of open air exercise, and the want of sufficient care in the matter of diet, the whole physical mechanism often becomes impaired during the winter. Aver's Sarsaparilla is the proper remedy to take in the spring of the year to purify the blood, invigorate the system, excite the liver to action, and restore the healthy tone and vigor.

The report that Judge Owsley is going to withdraw from the race for Governor is vigorously denied by his friends.

Good Things Cost.

Yes, indeed, they do. Generally that which we admire and which seems to us, perhaps, to be done so easily has cost all that it is worth. And the reason why it does not seem so to us is because we do not see when and where and how the work is put in.

We are riding along and looking out upon a beautiful landscape. We admire the skillful arrangement of trees, and shrubbery, and flowers, or the smooth and gently sloping grounds. This is, indeed, lovely, we say. How fortunate the owner was to find such a place. But some one replies, could you have seen all this years and years ago, when it was in a natural state, you might never have dreamed of this. It has taken much thought and hard work and great expense to bring these grounds to their present condition. Tell a man how a thing has been done and he says: "That's easy to do." Very possible, now that you have been shown how to do it, but could you have done it in the first place? That is the real test. You listen to a man whose mind is richly stored with facts and thoughts and fruitful in combinations of these varied stores, and as he expresses the thought which needed expression, perhaps you say: how easy that was done. I could have said it. Could you? Why did you not then, before he did? Why not go one step farther and give expression to the next thought which, so soon as expressed, the orator and all the people shall say that was the right word right spoken. That is the very word we were waiting to hear. When the lightning flashes you can see very clearly. And, if you act quickly, you may take all your bearings by its instantaneous light. And such a flash of thought may prove to you an apple of gold.

But we want more than fitful gleams. Steady lights are best. And he is the true speaker whose light shines on clear and true while it is at the same time able to throw a great flood of radiance on the dark spot when the right moment comes.

Never say such things do not cost. I tell you, if such a light blazes before you and does not cost him who gives it, then it is an ignis fatuus and will lure him and you, too, on to destruction.

Great men are hard-working men. Genius means a great capacity for work. "Genius will work." The men eminent in all the noble walks of life have been, are now, great workers. They are trained to endure, and when occasion requires, can, and do, labor tremendously.

You see a train fly down the track. It goes easily, does it not? Swift and strong, without friction and without sign of labor, it shoots along. You simply see the results. But what leads to and insures these results?

So you look upon the outside appearances of great lives and see no signs of heat, and noise, and worry, and weariness, and you state your proposition that they lead easy, charmed lives. Try it and see. Try to grapple with the labors of some great legislator, merchant, writer, or divine, for even one day. He who puts off the harness makes the wisest statements. A truly great man bears a great load easily. To do this gives the right to bear the name.

Are you dazzled by the lives of Generals, Senators, millionaires, or great men of letters? Consider the cross well as looking at the crown. It is a grand thing to win the crown. Try for it. Try with all the manhood there is in you. You are worth little if you do not make the trial. But remember that you only reach the high seats and wear the crown a ter long, arduous, unremitting labors. Let no word of mine discourage you. But try no short cuts. Count the cost and then do valiant battle. Determine to win all these good things, but win them legitimately. Great and good work merits and will in due time receive a great reward.—Golden Rule.

A Natural Copper-Plating Bath.

Two years ago, at a mine operated by William Utter, at Campo Seco, near Milton, water came in and work stopped. To keep the large iron-bound and iron-bailed bucket used to hoist rock from drying up and falling to pieces it was let down into the water. Next season when it was drawn up, lo! a miracle! It was copper-bound and copper-bailed. From this has sprung quite an industry, and the mine has been sustaining itself from one water ever since. The water contains an acid which has the property of taking into solution the particles of iron thrust into it and it has also copper in solution which is let go, particle by particle, as the iron is picked up. It is a simple chemical exchange, and this mine may make another profit still if it will get another chemical into the water which will make the acid lay down the iron, which, as a black flood, the water carries down into the Stanislaus River. The copper industry consists in taking bundles of scrap iron and old tin to the mine, where it is thrust into vats of water caught up, in which the metals are soon changed to copper, the residue of the iron taking the form of a black stream and flowing away. To make sure of making the water swap all its copper for iron, which it is glad to do without boot, one vat is placed below another down the bank to the river, and when the water escapes it has eaten its fill of iron and left pay for its meal in genuine copper. CINCINNATI CIGARMAKERS.

The Manufacturers Refuse to Grant an Increase of $1 per 1,000, and the Cigarmakers Are Still Out.

CINCINNATI, April 12.—The striking cigarmakers are again in session to-day, with prospects no brighter than on yesterday. Over 500 attended the meeting this morning. Reports were received from a majority of the factories. The manufacturers were willing to grant the increase of $1 per thousand, but wanted the amount divided among the various workmen. The proposition submitted by them was to increase the wages of the rollers 50 cents per thousand; bunch breakers, 25 cents; packers, 15 cents, and to divide the balance of 10 cents among the searchers and other branches. This the strikers refused to accept. They demand the $1 increase to be divided between the rollers and bunch breakers only. Another demand which they considered and decided to make at this morning's meeting was that the manufacturers should pay for the gas consumed by the workmen during the winter months.

Heretofore the latter have submitted to a reduction of their wages of 30 cents per month for the payment of the gas they consumed while at work. They will also demand that permission be granted the officers of the two unions to visit the various factories for the purpose of collecting dues from the workmen.

The meeting was an enthusiastic one, and a number of earnest speeches in behalf of the cause were made.

Earthquake at Cairo, Ill.

CAIRO, April 12.—A perceptible shock of earthquake was felt here at 2:30 this morning.

It is estimated that the wheat crop of the present year in the United States will fall below that of 1882 by at least 50,000,000 bushels. Much of the wheat throughout the Northwest and the West is reported to be winter killed by the exceptionally cold weather.

At Boston, in the suit of Lizzie Gannon vs. Father Fleming, which was brought to recover $5,000 damages, because the latter, a Catholic priest, had taken away some paper images to which the child had become attached, causing an alleged serious injury to her health and mental condition, the jury brought in a verdict of one cent damages.
